Progress Report

Your Progress Report is an outline of the progress you have taken towards earning your degree. It counts up how many credits you've earned, then determines if you're on track. You can view what classes you've taken and which you need to take next.

The main progress report page will give you an overview of your progress in general, as well as how many credits you've completed for each year and class type. To view details on specific classes, press the "View Details" button under a graph.

To view a specific subset of classes, such as studio electives in junior year you haven't started yet, press the filter icon on the top right. Here you can specify the year, class type, and completion status to get exactly what you need.
